BESTOWAL OF HONORS AT MILITARY ACADEMY

Secretary Garrison to Present Diplomas Certifying Graduation of 164 Cadets.

Next Saturday 164 cadets at the United States Military Academy will receive from the hands of the Secretary of War, Lindley M. Garrison, their diplomas certifying to their completion of the four years' course, and entitling them to commissions as second lieutenants in the United States Army.

The class of 1915 is the largest that was ever turned out from West Point. It numbered 246 members when it was admitted in the summer of 1911, eighty-four delinquents having left the academy. That is stated to be a larger percentage of "failure" for a class at West Point—nearly 24 per cent.

Race for First Honors.

There is a pretty race for first honors between Edwin Richardson Kimble, who was appointed from the seventh congressional district of Texas, and William E. B. Cowell, who was appointed from the district of Columbia. In the order of merit and proportional parts of last year's class record, Kimble had 71.04 out of a maximum of 80, Cowell for the same period had 70.89. The final examination and class work must determine the relative merits of these two men.

Anastasio Ver, a Filipino, the second one to graduate from West Point from the Philippine Islands, is a member of the class. Luis Paul Esteves is another cadet from the insular possessions. He is a native of Porto Rico that ever graduated from the academy.

STUDENTS MAKE MERRY

AS G. W. U. YEAR WANES

President Stockton Tenders Reception to 200 Graduates of the Institution.

With the scholastic year nearly at a close, students of George Washington University are making merry with various activities. One of the most enjoyable functions held this season was a reception tendered the 200 graduates of the institution last evening by Rear Admiral Charles Herbert Stockton, U. S. N., retired, president of the Washington Club, 1701 K street northwest.

In addition to students from the university members of the faculty and of the board of trustees were present. The reception was two hours in length, starting at 5 o'clock.

This evening seniors of the department of arts and sciences are to present a burlesque, "The Conquest of Mother," at the Wilson Normal School. The play was written by Miss Helen Clark. Those who are to take part are Florence Kerby, Ruth Leah Ayler, Edwin Harsh, Arnold Clenden and Joseph Kingsbury.

Seniors are to be given this evening also by the Sigma Phi Epsilon and the Theta Delta Chi fraternities at their respective chapter houses.

An informal alumnae luncheon was given by the Chi Omega Sorority at the chapter room in the afternoon yesterday afternoon. Last night Theta Delta Chi fraternity held a smoker at the Theta Delta Chi chapter house.

Miss Ruth Leah Ayler entertained the girls' class of the university at her residence last evening. Miss Ayler, who is a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity, was assisted by Miss Ayler, Miss Margaret Haines, Mrs. Emily F. Barnes and Miss Elizabeth Wilbur.

CHARGED WITH FAILING

TO COMPLY WITH DECREE

Western Newspaper Union, Defendant in Anti-Trust Suit, Alleged to Be in Contempt.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Charges that the Western Newspaper Union, which supplies matrices and stereotyped plates to newspapers, had failed to comply with a decree of Federal Judge M. K. Landis, in the anti-trust case against it, are made in a petition filed asking that the union and three of its officials, George A. Joslyn, H. H. Fish and M. H. McMillan, be held in contempt of court.

The judge Landis decree, August 3, 1912, ordered that the union, with the American Press Association, the Central News Publishing Company, and three individual publishers, be enjoined from underselling competitors to injure them, of influencing customers by false reports and unfair threats or promises.

The present petition is based on affidavits that the union has circulated unfair report about the Publishers Press Company of Toledo and the United Weekly Press Association of Grand Rapids, and that the union had sold its service to papers in Ohio and Michigan for lower than its published rates.

SPOTTED WEATHER PREDICTED

Weekly Official Forecast Indicates Many Varieties.

Weather for the United States during the week beginning tomorrow is to be pretty much spotted, according to the weekly forecast for the period issued today by the weather bureau. Rainy weather in some parts, showers only in others.

Warmer and cooler weather, are some of the varieties promised for different parts of the country. However, it is predicted that temperatures over the entire country will continue to be somewhat below the seasonal average for the next several days.

For the middle Atlantic states, which includes Washington and the District of Columbia, the weather bureau forecasts slightly warmer weather until Saturday or Sunday, when "a brief shower period" will be looked for to spoil the week end.

The bureau anticipates that temperatures throughout the country will continue below the seasonal average until the end of the seven-day period.
